FOOD APLENTY: THE GOURMET PARADISE

Food.
Exotic Food.
World Class Exotic Food.
These are the thoughts of Mr. Chin, the ultimate Gourmet.

Contacts from all over the world give Mr. Chin up-to-the-moment information on exotic and tasty foods. If there is exotic food, you can be sure that Mr. Chin will be there to sample it. A most lip-smacking rumor has just arrived on his private food line . . . the FOOD GRAM just received reads as follows . . .

> FOOD GRAM
> HAVE LOCATED EXOTIC FOOD WHICH HAS NOT PASSED YOUR PALATE TEST STOP A RARE AND EXOTIC FORM OF PEACHES STOP UTTERLY DELICIOUS AND WITHOUT EQUAL STOP MORE INFO TO FOLLOW STOP

The flash from the fax read . . .

Location: Owl County, PA - U.S.A.
Type of Food: Exotic Peaches
Special Instruction: This food is mobile. You will have to work at getting this dish. Contact Livermore for obtaining access to their new Demobilizing Beam.
Code Name: DEMOE

End of Message.

Ah! A rare new delicacy! Mr. Chin is delighted at the news, as it has been slow for exotic new discoveries at this time. A rare new treat. To prepare for this delicacy, Mr. Chin begins to make some calls.

His First Contact: Livermore Laboratory. For the sake of culinary advancement, the DEMOE Beam MUST be loaned to him. Money is no object.

His Second Contact: The Airlines. A long trip to the barbaric land of the United States. As long as an exotic dish is waiting to be sampled, then Mr. Chin could survive ANYTHING!

His Next Contact: Marcus, his main contact and primary food source. "Marcus, Chin here. Any more news as to these peaches?"

After reviewing the updated report on his food line terminal, Marcus responded, "Well, these peaches are a mobile plant life which are classified as Momos. Their capture and hunting is illegal, so you will have to be careful." "Thank you for your advice" replied Mr. Chin, "but please brief me on the DEMOE." Marcus continued "The DEMOE Beam mutates the Momos into peach types. They are poisonous while in their mobile state. They are edible only after being DEMOEDED. Trust me, they are worth the trip!"

"Thank you Marcus! I will be sure to bring some back for you!" said Mr. Chin. "I shall enjoy them," Marcus replied. "Chin, do you know what Livermore said about the shipment of the DEMOE Beam?"

"It is in transit now. I look forward to the test run upon my arrival in the United States."

"GOOD LUCK! I shall keep you abreast on any new dishes while you are out. Goodbye my friend. Happy Hunting!"

"Goodbye".

Mr. Chin hung up slowly. Illegal Hunting??? Well, he'd have to be VERY careful! Prison food could do terrible things to a gourmet palate.

And so the story begins . . .

MOMO MADNESS

Throughout the centuries, certain men believed that Momos could produce foods of unequalled value. Many famous men made their mark throughout history with their experiments.
Gregor Momodel, for example, cross-bred Momos and pea vines to create a strain of Momos with a faster mobility than ever before. He also established the laws of genetic breeding using Momo types.

George Washingmomo Carver earned HIS place in history by making a thousand useful things out of Momos.

In present times the Momo is considered much like the Momodo Dragon or the Loch Ness Momo. This fairy tale belief was cast aside when a nest of Momos was recently discovered in the U.S.A. Other nests were eventually found, about eight in all.

At Livermore Laboratory, a special mutating ray was discovered which had a taming effect on the Momos. This beam eventually got the code name of (D)e—(E)nergizing—(MO)bility Beam (or DEMOE Beam for short). The DEMOE Beam turns the Momos into the tasty dish of Peaches a la Mo. Due to the rarity of the Momo tribes, the hunting and demoeding of them was declared illegal.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

MR. CHIN

Mr. Chin is a world-renowned gourmet. He is famous for his unequalled taste in fine foods. He has heard of a famous, fine and luscious peach, whose delicacy and richness is unequalled anywhere in the world.

And so, Mr. Chin journeys forth, to find the peaches of his dreams.

THE MOMO TRIBE

Momos are a special branch of the fruit family. This strange species possesses the powers of mobility. They descend from a curious family mixture involving eggplants, peaches, creeping charlies, and some unknown type not seen before by human beings. They live in nests in groups called "Tribes".

This species of plant life is considered rare because it is so hard to catch. Since Momos can run and hide in places not expected, a lot of people do not believe the Momos Tribe exist.

HOW TO PLAY

- Control Mr. Chin to partake in a peach feast of epic proportions.
- Move Mr. Chin with joypad.

- Press "A" to make Mr. Chin jump. If he bangs into the ceiling, the ceiling will crack.

- Press "B" to set down or pick-up the DEMOE Beam Guns. The DEMOE Beam Guns can ONLY be set down on a solid floor.

- The "START" Button will start, pause, and re-start the game.
- Make the Beam work by setting two DEMOE Beam Guns on the same level. Any Momos caught in the middle will be instantaneously turned into Peaches a la Mo!
- Catch and eat the Peaches a la Mo for dinner and extra points.
- DO NOT TOUCH the rampaging Momos. They will poison you or stick you in jail for life!

TASTY TIPS

- The mesh floors are VERY special. Mr. Chin can go through them, but the Momos can't. Make use of this fact.
- You can make new passages by knocking out ceilings with your head. This can divert the Momos to where you want them.
- A single DEMOE Beam Gun can also act as a barricade to stop the Momos from moving around.
- You can trap the Momos, so be creative!
- There are some secret items hidden in the ceilings.

PARTING COMMENTS

- Try to eat more than one peach at a time. If Mr. Chin eats several peaches one after another, each peach's calorie value doubles.

- In a Normal stage the object is to eat all the Momos that will appear. The number of peaches left to be eaten is shown on the top of the screen. Each time Mr. Chin eats a Peach the calorie value for that peach is added to his calorie meter on top of the screen.

  In the Bonus stage Mr. Chin tries to eat as many peaches as he can before his time runs out.

- DEMOE Beam Guns Safety Lock. If Mr. Chin sets a DEMOE Beam Gun down by pressing the Select button while holding the "B" button down, the beam will not fire. Repeating this button sequence again will remove the safety lock and allow the beam to fire.

REMEMBER, Momos can be nasty, but they're still not very bright. If Mr. Chin stands facing the wall, they won't even notice him.
